ROUND 5—They went at it at close range, Corbett doing much execution with short-arm right and left swings. When they broke away Britt hooked his left twice to the body. Britt tried with left for the jaw, but Corbett cleverly brushed it aside. Britt rushed Corbett to the ropes, but the champion sent him back with it aside Britt rushed Corbett to the ropes, but the champion sent him back with right to the body. Corbett rushed in, but was met with a straight left to the body and a left to the face. Corbett retailisted with a flerce right to the jaw, but Britt, not to be denled, sent the champion against the roper with a fearful left to the stomach. They then mixed it, but no damage resulted. Britt sent in a straight left to the face and Corbett stalled till the sound of the bell. Britt had a shade the better of it in this round and looked more confident. His body blows did not appear to suit the champion, who clinched appear to suit the champion, who clinched epeatedly in this round.

ROUND 6-They rushed into a mix, in which Corbett awang right and left to the jaw; but these were offset by two vicious lefts that Britt sent to the chamvicious lefts that Britt sent to the champion's stomach. A moment later Britt's left sank into Corbett's stomach, but Corbett sent in two lightning lefts to the face that sent Britt back. Corbett nearly went to his knees from a missed right swing. A straight left by Corbett for the stomach was blocked by Britt, who countered with right on the stomach. Corbett was wild with a left and right swing. Britt getting in a straight left to the body. Quick as a flash Corbett whipped his left to Britt's jaw, sending his head back. It was a victous blow and Jimmy fought desperately, landing a left over Corbett' sye that tore that member open. It was that tore that member open. It was nonors were even-

ROUND 7-Britt missed two lefts fo the body and received a short-arm joil to the face from Corbett's left. Corbett missed a terrific right uppercut, and they clinched. Corbett landing several rights over the kidneys. Both men were badly discoluted and they come the corbett landing several rights over the kidneys. over the kidneys. Both men wore badly discolored opties. Britt sent a terrific right to the jaw, and followed it with a hard left to the body that forced the champion to clinch. They went at it hammer and tongs, Britt having much the better of a fiere raily. In this round Britt outfought Corbett in the mixes, Corbett repeatedly stalling. Corbett swung wildly with right, and a moment later landed a fearful right uppercut to the jaw. Both men fought fieredly, giving and taking considerable punishment. It was a comparatively even round. If anything, Britt kept his head better than the champion and landed the cleaner blows.

ROUND S-Eritt lunged out with left, but was short. He then went in after Corbett, mixed it and landed several terrific right and left swings on the champion's jaw. Corbett looked very groggy at this stage and clung desperately to Britt to save himself. The house was in a terrific uproar. Britt set a very fast pace, and it looked as if he must soon life. Britt waded in again, but Corbett caught him a right swing on the jaw that sent him back. They stood in the center of the ring, with Britt hammering Corbett on the jaw with right and left at will. Corbett again stalled to save himself Britt ried to put the champion out, but apparently his blows lacked the force Corbeit, near the end of the round, got in a straight right to the face. The pace in this round was almost superhuman. If Britt can keep it up, it looks as though he will win in another round or two, but he showed the effects of the pace as he went to his corner.

ROUND 9-Corbett uppercut with right ROUND 5-Corbett uppercut with right to the face. Corbett seemed fresher and went in after Britt, but did not land. Britt seemed content to rest after his exertions of the previous round. Corbett landed two straight lefts to the jaw and forced Britt on the defensive. Corbett followed it with right and left swings to the jaw, and they mixed it. Britt missed a left hook for the body. Britt drove a left swing to Corbett's nose, starting the blood. Corbett then uppercut with right to the face, starting the blood afresh from Britt's eye. Both men are covered with Britt's eye. Both men are covered with blood and their faces appear to be badly cut. The round closed in Corbett's favor. Britt contenting himself with resting and acting mostly on the defensive.

ROUND 10-They immediately mixed it, and Britt blocked several rights and lefts for the body. Britt then swung his left twice to Corbett's ear, and then jabbed a straight left to the champion's face. Corbett rocked Jimmy's head with short-arm swings and in a mix put a hard right to the jaw. Britt missed a right for the law, and an attempt by Corbett to counter was blocked. The pace slackened considerably over the previous rounds. Britt sent a straight left to the face and missed a left swing for the Jaw. They then exchanged hard rights to the face. Britt sent Corbett's head back with a right hook to his sore eye. He rushed Corbett to the ropes, but failed to connect. As the bell rang Britt reopened Corbett's eye with a straight left. It was a hard fight and both men again went to their corners with blood flowing from all over their damaged faces. Corbett's seconds worked hard on the champion's eye, which was badly swollen.

ROUND II-Corbett bored in with hard ROUND 10-They immediately mixed it

ROUND II-Corbett bored in with hard ROUND II-Corbett bored in with hard right to the kidneys. A mix followed. Britt missing two lefts for the face and Corbett putting in two rights to the face. The referee had his hands full separating the combatants. Britt missed a left for the jaw, and a right by the champion landed on Eritt's face. They clinched repeatedly. Corbett missed several rights for the face, and held on to Britt, for which he was hissed. Both men appeared thred. Corbett was very wild with two uppercats for the jaw, as were also two rights for the face by Britt. In a mix-up against the ropes Corbett sent in left and right to the jaw, and Jimmy looked very tired as the bell rang. It was the champion's round. Britt looked very tired as he received attention from his seconds.

ROUND 12—Britt missed a left swing for the head, and they mixed it, without damage. Corbett seemed to be waiting for a chance to get in a telling blow. Finally he drove in a straight right to the stomach, but received a still harder one from Britt's left in the stomach. Corbett was wild with a terrific right swing, and they went to a clinch. Corbett kept rushing at Britt, who appeared tired. Corbett borred in and sent a straight left to the jaw, escaping a left counter. Britt's cleverness stood him well in stead, as Corbett kept after him relentlessly, but in most cases did not land. Britt forced Corbett to the ropes and failed to take advantage of a wide opening. They got to the center of the ring and the bell found them in a clinch. Both men appeared tired at this stage. It looked like an even fight up to this stage.

ROUND 13—They immediately rushed to a clinch, and Referee Greney parted them. Britt was wild with two lefts and another left for the body was blocked. Very little fighting followed, the men clinching repeatedly. Britt was short several times with his left and Corbett whipped a smart left to the jaw, duplicating the blow a moment later. Britt then forced Corbett to the ropes, landing a left hook to the stomach and a left to the face. Corbett forced him back to the center of the ring and caught Britt twice on the jaw with two hard right uppercuts. It was noticed that Corbett took good care to keep his stomach covered. As the bell rang Britt swing with a fearful right for the jaw but it went wild. The pace slowed down and both men again went to their corners tired. Corbett had the better of the round.

BOUND 14—They sparred in a desultory manner, each looking for an opening. Finally Corbett swung two hard rights to the ear and followed it with a right to the body, that was partially blocked Some clever blocking followed. Corbett failing to cornect with three victous right swings. Jimmy hooked his left high on the breast and a clinch followed. Corbett then blocked a left for the body, but received a straight left to the face. A right swing by Corbett went wide, and Britt missed two herce lefts in succession for the face. Corbett jarred Britt with a straight left to the jaw that forced the Californian to a clinch, Jimmy again appeared tired as the bell rang. The round was a shade Corbett's. The men are resorting to much clinching and the referce is kept busy prying them after Britt.

ROUND 15—Corbett went in after Britt, planting a straight left to the jaw and a right to the body. Britt then received two right and left swings on the Jaw that dazed him. He fought back desperatally and drove a couple of left hooks to the body that made the champion wince. Corbett forced Britt to the ropes, planting sight and left to the jaw. It looked bad for Britt. He appeared very groggy and fought like a dying man. Corbett sent a left to the Jaw and missed a right that would have ended matters had it landed. Britt received two rights and lefts on the jaw that sent him to a clinch. He hung on desperately to avoid punishment. As they broke away Britt drove a straight left to the stomach with a great deal of force, remarking. How do you like it, yourself?" The beli then sent the men to their corners. It was Corbett's round.

ROUND 15—They stood in the center of the ring, exchanging blow for blow. Britt planted a hard left to the body and followed it with a left swing that cent Corbett's head back. Britt followed his advantage, putting right and left to the jaw. Corbett again looked worled. Corbett then shot his right to the body gith sreat force and Britt again clinched. Britt cot in a left to the body and they mixed it, both delivering telling blows. Both seemed to tire from the efforts. Corbett sent in a straight left to the body, the impact of which was heard all over the building. Britt sent Corbett to the ropes with two terrific rights to the jaw. The bell rang at this stage, but the fighters did not hear it. It was a wonderful rally on Britt's part and Corbett looked a bit groggy as he went to his corner. Britt had the advantage, notwithstanding he received some hard blows.

ROUND 17—They went at it hammer and tongs, Britt sending his right and left to the jaw, forcing Corbett to stall. Britt then sent in two straight lefts to he face and blocked a desperae right swing by Corbett. Britt landed several punishing lefts to Corbett's stomach and missed a hard right for the inw. Desperate fighting followed both men appearing almost tired out and Corbett clinching. Britt finally sent Corbett scainst the ropes with a straight left to the body. Corbett fought wildly and they mixed it, with Jinmy uppercutting Corbett on the face and body with lefts. It was a gruelling tessile. Britt having all the better of the property of the best of the property of the best of the property of the best of the property o ROUND 17-They went at it hammer and and body with lefts. It was a gruelling fussle, Britt having all the better of it. The bell stopped hostilities. It was Britt's round by a wide margin. Britt received a tremendous ovation as he took his seat, his wonderful ability to take punishment and recuperate delighting the crowd.

ROUND 18—Corbett rushed in, trying to force Brilt to fight in close. He got more than he bargained for, for Brilt rained right and left swings on his face that nearly sent him to the floor. Corbett clinched in desperation, the referee trying to part them. As they parted Britt sent in right and left to the face, but a well-directed right by Corbett caught him in the stomach. They fought flercely, both taking very hard blows. Britt tried to keep Corbett at a distince, but the latter was too shrewd and forced Britt to close quarters. They mixed it and were in this position when the gong sounded. It was a terrific round, closing in Britt's favor.

ROUND 19—During the intermission some one proposed three cheers for Britt, and it was kept up until the men toed the scratch for the next round. At the opening Britt forced Corbett to the ropes, sending left and right to the jaw. Corbett then scored heavily with his right on the body and left to the face. They worked toward the center of the ring where Britt swung a hard left on Corbett's face Britt ducked a right and left uppercut and countered with a straight left to the head and a right hook to the jaw. Both men again fought desperately. Britt rocking Corbett's head with with a rain of right and left swings to the jaw. Corbest could not get away from Britt, whose blows seldom falled to connect. In a vicious mix Britt swung a hard right to the ear and a left hook to the body. As the bell rang, Corbett was in a clinch to avoid the terrific rain of blows with which Britt bombarded him. It was all Britt's round.

ROUND 20, and last-They shook hands ROUND 20, and last—They shook hands and immediately mixed it, neither landing. Britt missed a left for the jaw and a right and left swing by Corbett went into the air. They mixed it again, Britt crossing with left to the jaw, and they clinched against the ropes. As they broke, Britt sent in two lefts and a right to the jaw. Britt missed a terrific left swing for the jaw and Corbett's efforts were wild. Very few blows found a lodging place. Britt sent in a right to the head and followed it with left to the face. Corbett stalling desperately. Britt did most of the fighting in this round. The round and fight ended with the men engaged in a fierce mix-up, Britt landing almost at will. Britt was given the decision. It was re-ceived with tremendous cheers,

GREAT SURPRISE FOR LOCAL SPORTS

Few Persons Believed Britt Equal to the Occasion-$3000 Changed Hands.

Not less than $3000 changed hands in this city last night as a result of the defeat of Young Corbett.

Down at the Salt Lake Turf Exchange, where the fight was being announced by rounds, betting was liveliest. The house which he was hissed. Both men appeared tired, Corbett was very wild with two was filled with men who had various sums, ranging from $1 to $1600, which they were anxious to place on the Denver youth. A large number can congratulate themselves this morning, not because they liked Britt, but because they were unable to place their money on Corbett, even though they tried desperately.

Britt's backers did not number more than a scant half-dozen. They stood off in one corner in a group, conversing in whispers and making their presence felt as little as possible, as if they feared violence should they assert their belief too strongly.

as little as possible, as if they feared violence should they assert their belief too strongly.

Before the fight began about $2000 of Corbett money had been covered by the Britt backers, prominent among whom were M. E. Mulvey and F. M. Nelson. The prevailing price was 2 to 1, with the Denver supporters on the long end.

Much more Britt money could have been placed had it been available, as there were a number of ardent Corbett men who were unable to find any takers.

At the end of the fifteenth round the Britt backers saw that the man on whom they had pinned their faith was winning, and considerable coin was offered on the Californian, but little was taken.

From this time until the end of the fight the Britt men were offering even money on their pet, but very little money was placed even at the bargain-sale figure. It is safe to say that nine out of every ten fight followers in this city picked Corbett to win. Of course, there will be the usual number around this morning who will say. "I told you so," but last night these same fellows, with a few exceptions, were lauding the prowess of Young Corbett.

night these same fellows, with a few exceptions were lauding the prowess of

The principal surprise among local fight fans accomed to be Britt's staying qualities. Reports from 'Frisco of late led many to believe that the Californian would be weak when he entered the ring on account of the weight required. This dene was wrong, as is evinced by the fact that Britt outfought the Denver boy
all through the latter part of the battle.

CLOSE FINISHES

At last night's session of the Commercial club pool tourney, two closely contested games were played. Rust and Richmond being the victors. In the first Richmond being the victors. In the first game between Rust and Cummings, the latter took the lead from the start and until the eighteenth inning looked an easy winner. When Rust began operations in the nineteenth the score stood 19 to 1 against him, but by a series of brilliant runs he snatched victory from the hands of his opponent and won the game by a score of 50 to 43.

Hood's Sarsaparilla promises to cure and keeps the promise.

BOTTLING OF ARTHUR IS NOT CONFIRMED

ONDON, March 25 .- No confirmation of the cablegram of yesterday announcing the battling of Port Arthur has been received. A dispatch from Seoul says that Japanese scouts report that they have discovered that the Russian troops are south of the Yalu in much stronger force than was thought.

Two detachments of Russian troops, one estimated to number 500 and the other 200 men, are reported to be pillaging the country around Anju. The natives, in fear, are fleeing south.

Anju is forty miles north of Pingyang, and about sixty miles south of the Yalu river.

JAPANESE CONGRESS GIVES VOTE OF THANKS TO TOGO

Representatives today listened to a sig-nificant speech by M. Yamamoto, the Minister of Marine, and passed with enthusiasm and without a dissenting voice a vote of thanks to Vice-Admiral Togo and his officers for their services to the country. When the vote was taken the members of the House cheered the navy.

O'Sullivan's Heels

Are Full of Life Because Made of Live Rubber

That's the whole rubber heel story. O'Sullivan uses only brand new rubbe fresh from the trees, full of life and spring and wear. It costs over $1 a pound, but O'Sullivan has never used old rubber yet-and he never will

Other rubber heel makers use "re-claimed" rubber—some of it reclaimed half a dozen times, it's been in boots and hose and mats, and in and out of junk heaps perhaps for years. It costs in cents a pound. It's cheap, but dead hopelessly dead. It has no spring, and it won't wear.

+++++++++++++++++++ Other Rubber Heels are Absolutely Dead Because + Made of Dead Rubber.

 But you have to pay just as much for dead rubber heels as for O'Sullivan's—both are 50 cents a pair put on. The shoe dealer makes more on the other heels—but you lose. Ask for O'Sullivan's and get what's due you. If your dealer can't supply you send 35 cents for sample to O'Sullivan Rubber Co, Lowell, Mass.
